TIME

As we draw to the end of this our last year here, we begin to realize the changes that have been wrought in us under the influence of the Seminary. Time is the builder of our strength, developed through work and understanding.

Our values are assimilated over a period of time. It takes time to gain understanding and wisdom, and to weigh our thoughts in relation to the beliefs of others. Time molds our characters, as we garner the ideas and opinions of others and from our discriminating consideration of them, form our own philosophy of life.

Time can be kind or cruel. To us it has been exceedingly kind. Our life here has provided us with both the inspiration and the opportunity to learn and wonder. It has given us the time to develop and stabilize our knowledge, our character, and our faith. Time has given us much, and we, in return, must use our advantages well.

Miss Ruth Jenkins

Our Headmistress

I wonder how many times I've sat in that office, just as have hundreds before me, and hundreds will after me! She sits behind her desk serenely, and I can't help thinking over and over again how wonderful she is to let me take up her valuable time with my really insignificant problems. Marvelous and sagacious in all her decisions, she helps build my self-confidence. She has helped me through many troublesome times, as I'm sure she has helped many others.

DEDICATION

To you, Bishop Bayne, we the Class of 1957 dedicate this Shield in gratitude for the enrichment which you have added to our lives, and in commemoration of your tenth anniversary as Bishop of the Diocese of Olympia. As shepherd of our flock, and President of the Board of Trustees, your passion for excellence has led us "from Strength to Strength."

Student Council

The Student Council is the school in miniature. Its members are selected by us to be the leaders of our Student Body, to promote a program of worthwhile activities that will help us to gain a sense of purpose for our lives. With this in mind the Council strives to create a unified community here where each girl may feel a sense of responsibility for the well-being of the whole. This is partly accomplished through various projects: the orientation of new girls, Annie's Birthday Party, the traditional dance in the fall of the year, the Student Conference on Religion, and Annie's Answers to name a few. By group and individual conferences, too, the Council channels our energies as an hour glass controls the flow of sand.

The Seniors

Class of '57

This is the class of 1957 speaking. I came into existence in 1943 when Nancy and Martine, my first "Annie Wrighters," entered kindergarten. When we were seventh graders, Katie Sheldon joined me. It was a fine group that marched up a year later to receive their diplomas. How happy I was to be an Upper School class!

I really began to be noticed in my Freshman year, when my members enthusiastically composed my class song. After Christmas the magazine drive was my biggest project, and friendly, spirited competition raged between the two teams.

My Sophomore year opened with Marcia as President; Sandra, Vice-president, and Nancy, Secretary-Treasurer. The Library was run smoothly, and my members were alert to responsibility. I won the Halloween cup for my skit, "Who's Who." The Freshman - Sophomore Hop was a gala affair! Sandra and Nancy were elected flag bearers for May Day.

Louanne was my President, and Mary Ann my Secretary-Treasurer, in my Junior Year. "My Sister Eileen" was a success with Elise as Eileen, Ellen as Ruth, and Marti as Appopolus. Junior Sales were profitable and a Junior Prom showed great imagination. Louanne looked lovely as Maid of Honor, sweet and sincere. Serious and considerate Mary Ann was awarded the Napkin Ring, while Nancy, with her sterling character, became the Key girl.

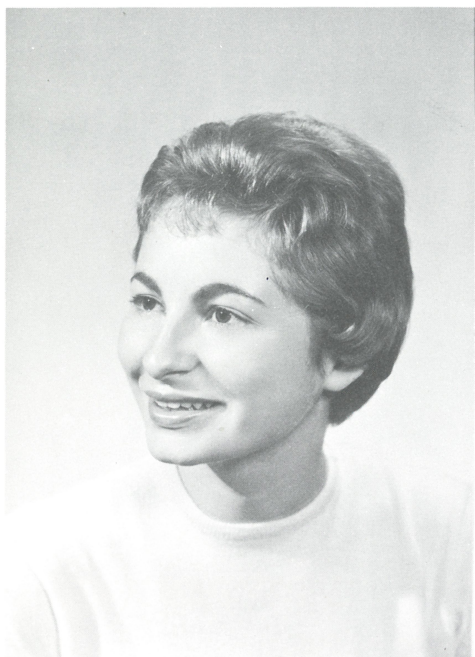

In our Senior year Louanne was the Student Body President, and Ellen, my President. At Halloween, I made my grand debut as "Madeline." The Senior movies proved a sensational success, with Brenda as an enthusiastic chairman. In December came the Christmas Carnival, expertly organized by Mary Ann. The new year began with most of my members taking College Boards. April was marked by the Easter Carol Service, the Junior Prom, and by the announcement that Marilyn had been awarded a Certificate of Merit. May Day came at last! Katie, a happy Queen, reigned graciously and my members in their pastel dresses were true princesses. Exams, and the long anticipated Senior Week of sailing, festivals, dinners, and parties! I sensed in all my members a closeness and a spirit of friendship that can best be described as "Annie's Spirit." Graduation came, and I commenced a new and shining life in the colleges of my choice.

Senior Reflections

I went into the Chapel and thought of its greatness and power. The service began, I listened to the words. They seemed strange and forbidding, for it was the first time I had honestly listened. On second thought, the words contained comfort and inspiration, and I felt as if I had found a new world, but I didn't understand why.

Our study-hall has a wonderful atmosphere of friendship, peace, and study. One can almost feel the concentration. The deep silence is broken only by the sound of turning pages and an occasional cough.

This little box in which so much is accomplished, is very appropriately lined with books, forming a warm plaid around the room. The clock ticking away in front of everyone's eyes, acts as a grim reminder, firmly telling us that there is only so much time; use it well! But the sternness of the clock can not hide the homey, and the well and profitably worn look. It is this which makes the study hall a Mecca for all Seminary students.

By seven o'clock on a winter evening, the outline of the Seminary has faded into the dark sky. The few lights shining in the rooms are framed by the square windows and stand out like yellow splotches on the background of a cubistic picture. I rarely think of the Seminary in terms of structure or appearance. Any light that I have seen has always made me think of the girl in whose room it was shining; every time the front door has swung open I have attached a story to those who exited and entered. As I penetrate inside the hedge and walk the halls of minds and spirits, I find my picture.

On your mark, get set, one more day to go! The excitement in the air is as tangible as a rubber band stretched to the breaking point! It sings when someone touches it and the strands fall away with sharp pings as the band is pulled tighter and tighter. In approximately twenty-one and three-fourth's hours, the final strand will break, and the excitement will escape into a pell-mell, mixed-up conglomeration of screeching, yelling, and whooping that sounds like open house at McNeil Island. Vacation at last!

The Juniors

Class of '58

Leading the red tie class were Julia MacKay, Ellen Osborne, and Sherry Vilas, as they started off the year with a success, their stationery drive. They came to spell this word in every task they attempted. Through their close cooperation, they once again made Junior Sales the long-awaited moment as the clock struck four on Friday afternoons. This was helped by Rom's enthusiastic commercials.

Their play was a beautifully portrayed drama, "The Song of Bernadette," starring their St. Bernard, nickname for Ann Cilley, as Bernadette.

Ann, with Mary Wearin, Lani Shuh, Catherine McCurdy, Deanna Poulson, Joan Munroe, Sally Christensen, Suzanne Jeppesen, and Sherry Brown, joined the class this year. With them came fresh life and enthusiasm, new ideas, and a spark promoting unity. Their freshness promoted the spirit of oneness that is now prevalent in these incoming Seniors.

One event which will always remain in our minds will be their famous hat show. It will warm our hearts as our hair begins to grey, when we recall that while we were enjoying ourselves we were also contributing to Service League.

Now as another year unfolds, this class finds many new adventures awaiting them. They will know the privilege of walkline and the responsibility of Senior Duties. As they walk down their Senior stairs on Alumnae day to sing their step songs, a certain thrill will be theirs as realization dawns, and their thoughts form the words, "Now we're full-fledged Seniors."

 The Sophomores

Class of '59

This year's green tie class has been under the excellent leadership of Helen Mackay as President; Vice-President, Joan Sandwell; and Secretary-Treasurer, Barbara Huff.

Adding more spark and initiative to the class, came these new girls from various places: Judy Ashby from Alaska, Anne MacNaughton from Hawaii, Daphne Owen and Susan Cromie from our Northern Neighbor, Ann Lapeyre from Idaho, Cynthia Fanshawe and Susan Burggraft from vast Montana, Nancy Ashford, Judy Moore, Nancy Freshwater, Emily Kaiser, Susan Fogg, Garie Kirkebo, and Kathy Jacobs know Washington as their homes.

The year got off to a fine start with all getting acquainted over exhibits and rides at the Puyallup Fair. This drew them closer together as a unit. Their creativity and imagination became more vivid to the rest of the school as the year progressed, and they worked together in the different activities.

The first demonstration of their creative ability was in November at the Student Council Dance, Calypso. Again they displayed various talents at their dance, Harlequin, given this winter. Their style show on charm and beauty portrayed originality and won the Headmistress' strong approval. This also helped them to earn their class contribution to Service League.

Their enduring dependability won them honorable mention and due respect as we saw them continually at work in the Library. We will never forget their cheerful faces reminding us of our overdue books or fetching still another magazine for us for those term papers.

Now as they finish this year, serving at the Prom and bearing the flags at May Day, they are "looking to far horizons." Next year they will be upper-classmen at last, meeting more responsibilities and striving for higher goals, as they go on from "Strength to Strength."

The Freshmen

Class of '60

As we look back on our years at Annie Wright, we will always remember the Freshman Class for their wonderful spirit. The Freshmen are full of ambition as indicated in their class song when they say, "As a class we have got lots of pep."

This year the Freshmen added to their class Didi Carstens, Carol Craft, Nina Engl, Pat Gibson, Sandy McCrea, Lynne Rubush, Bernice Soleway, Linda Tompkins, Clay Towne, and Nancy Russell, who joined the class after Christmas. With the leadership of Jane Hult, Shirley Cartozian, and Margaret Woodhams, the class has a unity, which we have observed day by day. With this and the help of their captains, Lynne Rubush and Peggy Yates, their big project of the year, the Magazine Drive was a huge success. With tremendous determination they far excelled the profits made in previous years.

When the class of "60" joined the Upper School, they had many things to look forward to, one of them being making preparations for the Freshman-Sophomore Hop. The theme of the dance was Harlequin with decorations in pink and red to carry out the theme. All was very well done to our great satisfaction, and we all had dates in spite of the snow.

Lastly, the Freshmen should be congratulated on their Halloween skit, which they so proudly presented, and as a result won the cup. Their skit was "When the Satans Come Marching In." Bette Bergman, St. Peter, and Mitzi Weiss, his wife, had a very difficult time persuading the people that life would be more pleasant with them than with Didi Carstens, the Devil, and Tamar Griggs, his wife, and in the end the temptation was too great.

Good luck to you, Freshmen. You say, "May each challenge be a victory, till we prove we cannot be excelled." You have proved it to us, and may you always be victorious.

Activities

The activities of the school are all very important to us, but the greatest one this year has been the building of the new wing. This has been the result of sacrificial gifts of time and substance of the friends of the Seminary.

It began on January 15, 1957, with the ground breaking ceremonies, first in the chapel to ask God for his guiding hand, then outside in the bitter cold to break the ground. The Bishop began the ground breaking, followed by the Headmistress, the Board of Trustees, the Student Body President, and finally the rest of the Student Body with their little red shovels.

This day marked a momentous occasion in the history of the school.

T.A.S.C.

THE ATHLETIC SERVICE CLUB

The shouts of the children rose to shrieks as the game proceeded. The T.A.S.C. girl was one of them playing ball and being their older sister. Because at all times the office must know where we are, the T.A.S.C. girl's responsibility after school is to locate everyone. At tea time, she is often heard saying, "Only two cookies and you know it!" The delighted squeals of the little girls show appreciation as she helps them dress and dry their hair after swimming. The sounds of the T.A.S.C. girls echo throughout our school. They are a vital part of our life as they give of themselves daily and spread a spirit of service to others.

Service League

Through Service League we form a closer bond of friendship with the outside world. It makes us more aware of the needs of people, and therefore, makes us more willing to share.

We have become interested in India by helping three Indian girls to further their education, thus raising the status of women in this country. In Ceylon, we are helping to support an orphanage by buying food and clothing, and in Japan, through the Diocese of Olympia, we are aiding the Olympia Day Nursery. In all parts of the world we are helping students to further their college education through the World University Service. This year our money helped students of Hungary in their dramatic revolt against Communism. Our major project is the Kiyosato Educational Experiment Project, under the direction of Colonel Paul Rusch. Here a small group is demonstrating to the Japanese people not only better farming methods but the real meaning of Christian living.

S.A.C.

S.A.C. is the governing council of the Athletic Association. It sponsors our athletic endeavors and many school functions such as Halloween, Easter, Dad's Day, and May Day. Every Annie can well remember the fall Hockey games between the exalted Blue and Gold teams.

Raynor Guild

MRS. CROWE, Advisor; JACKIE MEIER, Chairman; SHERRY VILAS, Vice-Chairman; BARBARA HUFF, Secretary-Treasurer; Nancy Ashford, Lydia Bayne, Sheryl Bellandi, Barbara Benson, Sandra Clark, Lynn Ferguson, Nancy Freshwater, Diane Hibbard, Kathy Jacobs, Emily Kaiser, Caroline Klontz, Betsy Minthorn, Elise Moore, Daphne Owen, Ellen Pearson, Susan Richards, Joan Sandwell, Carol Shanks, Katie Sheldon, Linda Tompkins, Margaret Woodhams.

Raynor Guild has its meetings on Tuesdays, but I do not think of Tuesday as Raynor Guild's Day. When I think of the Guild, the Thursday evening work parties come to my mind. The care and upkeep of the Chapel is the Guild's special privilege. Once a week then, we are each given a duty either in the Sacristy or in the Chapel itself and, because we are working in God's house, in God's service, what we do does not seem like work. It is rather our expression of joyful praise.

Masque

A burst of applause; that final curtain call; a moment of triumph! Masque did it again with the aid of her beloved Director, Mrs. Monks. The fall term of 1956 began with the tryouts and initiation of new members. Fresh enthusiasm, kindled that day at initiation, burned forth from the candle of creativity the whole of the year, giving inspiration to all her endeavors.

Because of the large number of members, The Masque Players were divided into two groups. Mrs. Chapman led the second group with Susan Richards as Student Chairman, presenting a lively performance for the enjoyment of the Student Body. "CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN" was the annual play, and it was a hit; sentiment and humor bound into one.

Masque used a new system this year. She held innumerable work parties in her treasured Masque Room to learn the skills and gimmicks of showmanship. The curtain came down at the annual Banquet, the year's successes fading back stage, but the echo of applause still resounding in her ears.

We, the Shield Board, wish to extend our thanks to all of the capable and helpful persons who have aided us in the production of this, the twenty-sixth edition of the yearbook. We are grateful to our advisor, Mrs. Seeley, to Mrs. Monroe, to Richard's Studio, and to the North Pacific Bank Note Co.

MRS. PHELPS

Mrs. Phelps, an alumna of The Annie Wright Seminary, has left us after ten and a half years of devoted service as House Manager. Her motto "a home away from home" remains with us. Her willingness to do whatever needed to be done, regardless of the demand upon her time and energy, her friendliness and her concern for everyone will long be remembered.

MRS. LENHAM

Mrs. Lenham, we would like to thank you for all you have done for our school. More than the remembrance of the tangible help, the good meals, the cocoa and doughnuts after swimming, the sack lunches for trips, we will remember the friendship you have made here and the twenty-one years of devoted service you have given The Annie Wright Seminary.

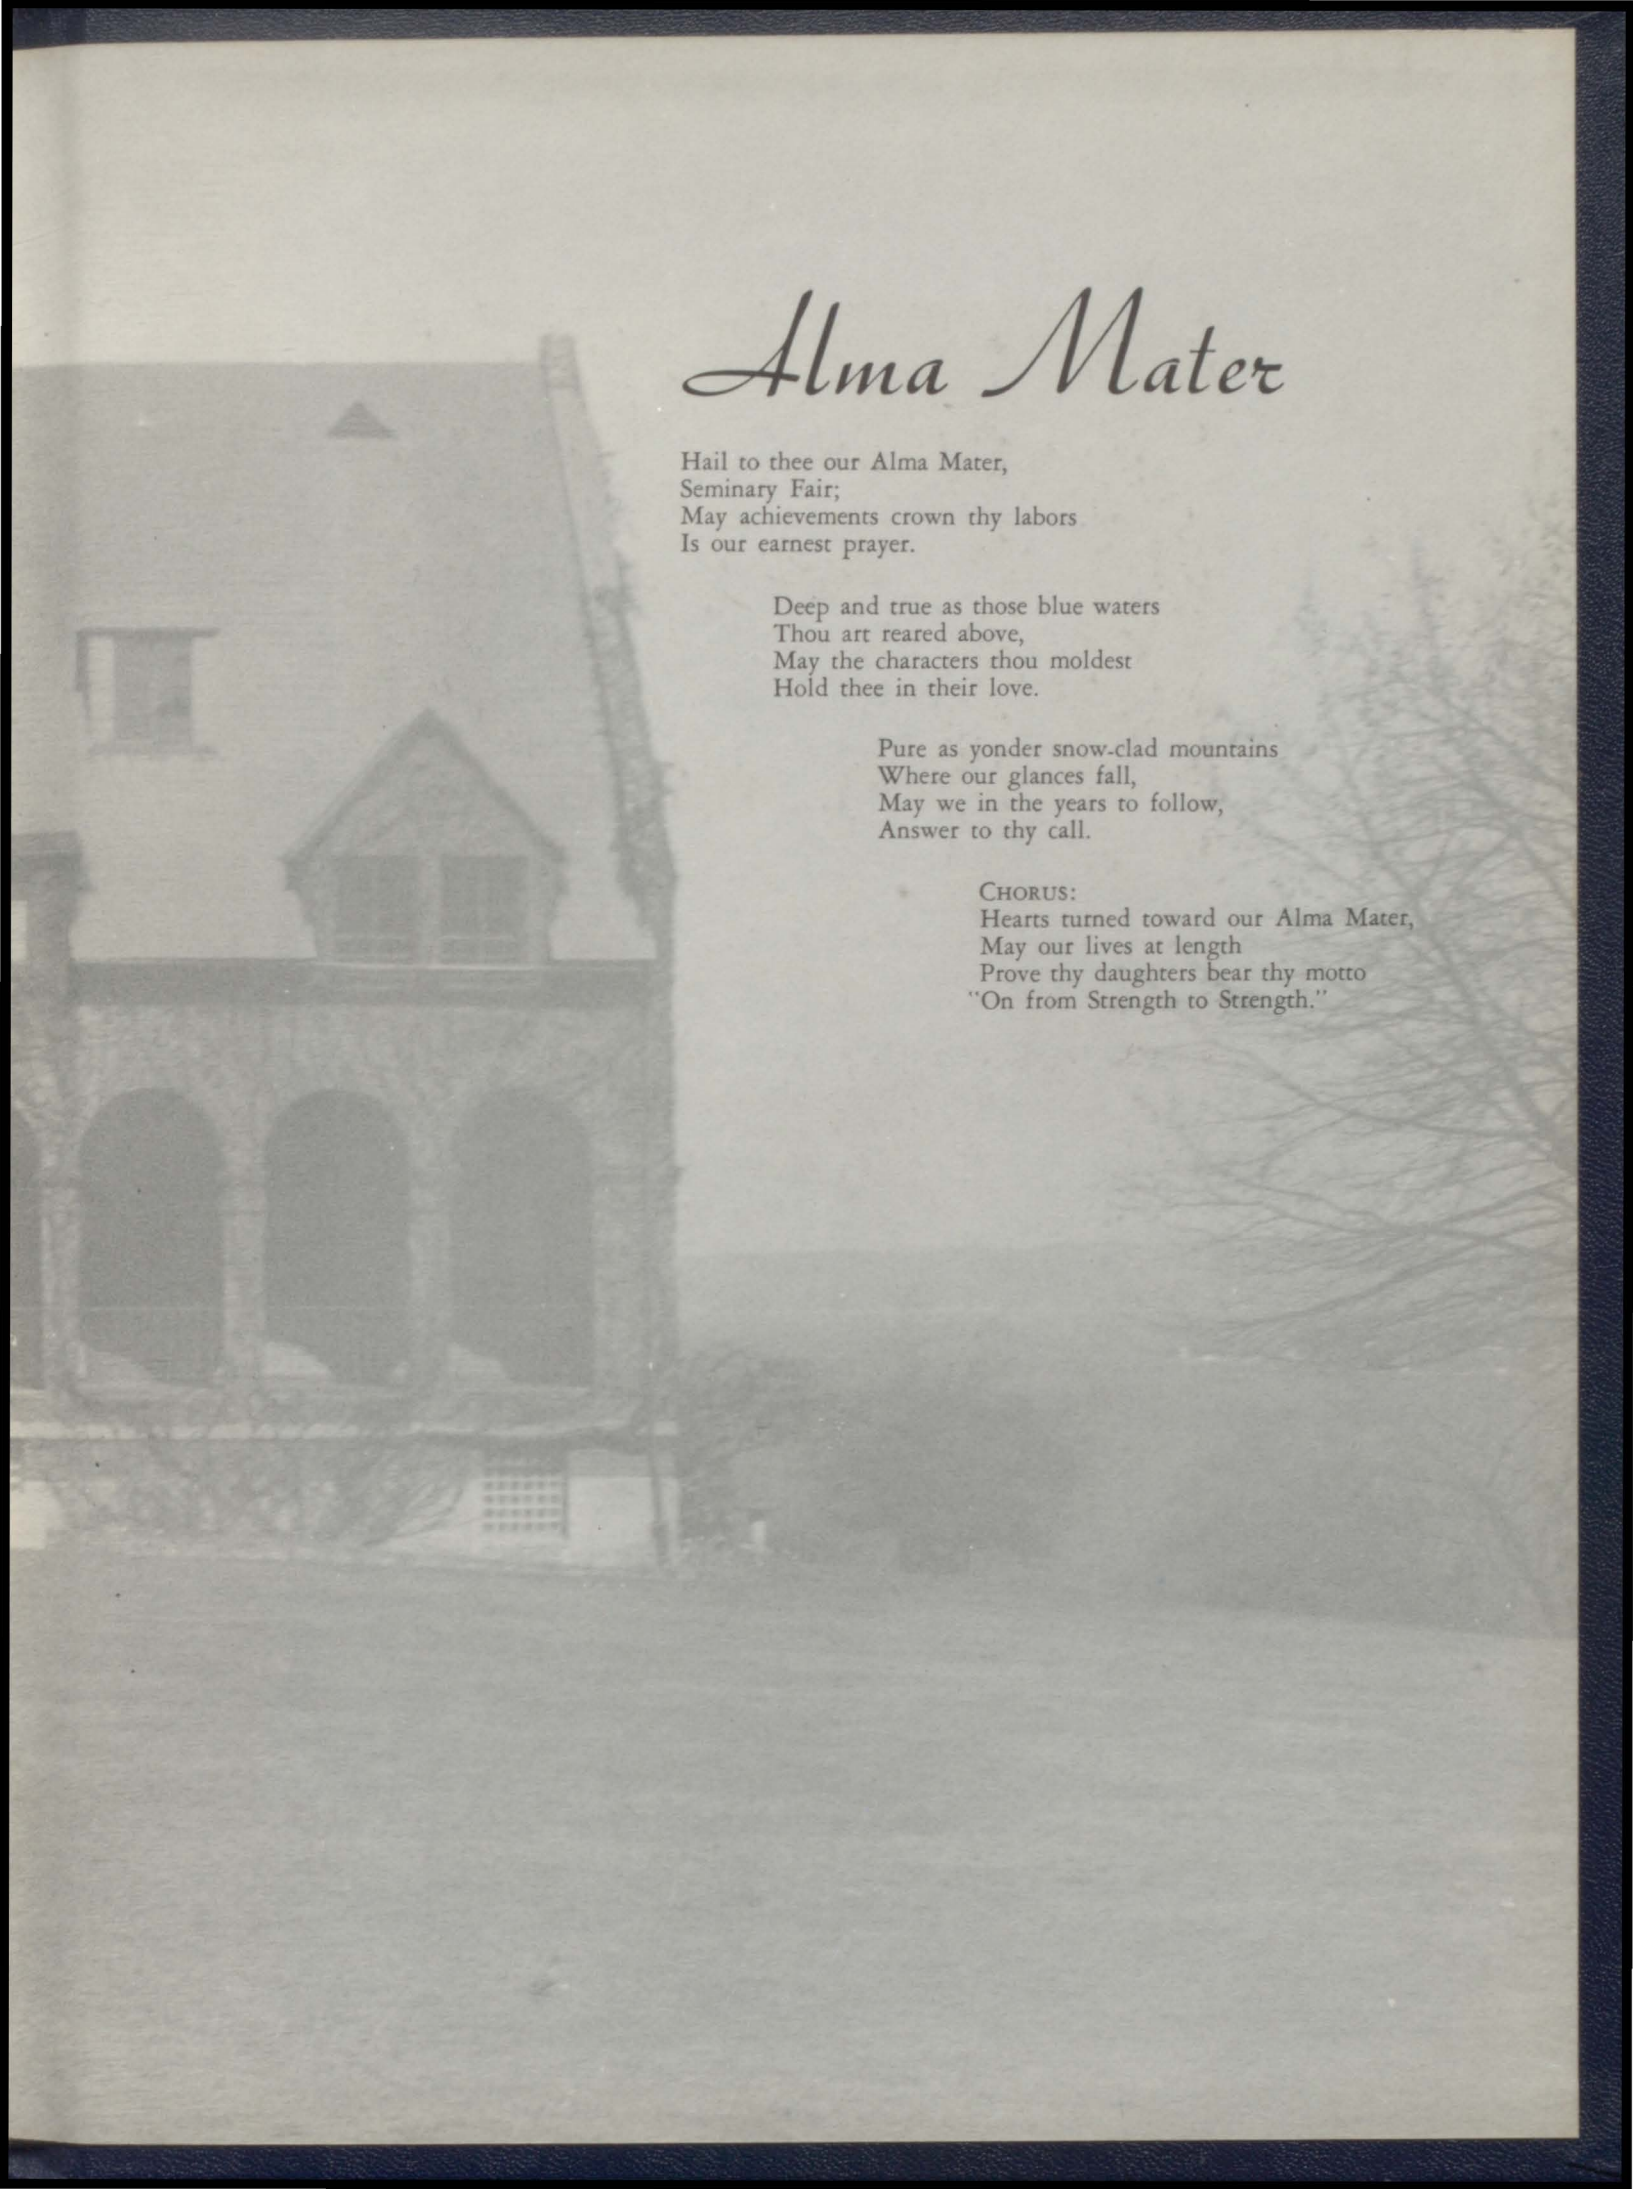

Miss Bess Lewis

1890 - 1957

Teacher of English and Religious Education

In grateful remembrance of the devoted service which Miss Lewis gave to us during her ten years of inspirational teaching at The Annie Wright Seminary, and of her constant love for the School.

Alma Mater

Hail to thee our Alma Mater,
Seminary Fair;
May achievements crown thy labors
Is our earnest prayer.

Deep and true as those blue waters
Thou art reared above,
May the characters thou mold
Hold thee in their love.

Pure as yonder snow-clad mountains
Where our glances fall,
May we in the years to follow,
Answer to thy call.

CHORUS:

Hearts turned toward our Alma Mater,
May our lives at length
Prove thy daughters bear thy motto
"On from Strength to Strength."
